A burned out immortal joins forces with a reluctant ghost hunter in order to save the Muses from the machinations of a seductive villainess.

It started twenty years ago in Vancouver, B.

C., when Jonathan Satori discovered that he could speak to the dead, and that his best friend Phillip was immortal. Now, in modern day Los Angeles, Jonathan is reunited with his high-school friends and learns a few more things that surprise the hell out of him. He learns that the Greek deities known as the Muses are real, and they are in trouble; and he learns that Phillip has dedicated his life to protect the Muses from the selfish desires of a renegade immortal named Pandora.
