Sixteen-year-old Miranda Greenburg knew she was different. Adopted at the age of two by her wonderful parents, she had never been given any clues as to who her real family were or where she came from. When her brother shows up in her life, he takes her away from everything and everyone she knows and loves to a completely different place, a completely different planet. Utopia is supposed to be perfect, but Miranda comes to realize just how un-perfect it is.

The planet is plagued by an ancient evil and Miranda discovers the secret her mother kept and why she had been hidden on Earth. Miranda is the chosen one, the third child of East. Miranda must figure out how to manage her new life, her secret destiny and on top of all that, a fight for her love.
