The world thinks they've got it all figured out. According to this culture, there's nothing wrong at all to choosing a mate: you play the field, try out a number of potential candidates, and then settle on whichever person will make you look good and meet all your needs. (But that's wrong).

If you're serious about living a life set apart, about resisting this culture's attempts to mold you into its image, and about honoring God with all your decisions- with your life- then you need to understand the proper order of doing things. You need to wash your mind in the pure truth of God's Word and let it transform your thinking.
